Work on Route 15 between Dillsburg and the Maryland line to cost a total of $23,100,000 was included today in the list of State Highways Secretary Park H. Martin's estimate of spending in the next two years on the state's federal interstate program.

The Gettysburg bypass, estimated at $15,600,000 is included in the total.

The other Route 15 projects and the estimates of their probable costs include:

Route 15, between Dillsburg and York Springs in York and Adams Counties, $3,750,000.

Route 15, York Springs-Heidlersburg, also $3,750,000.

An Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg today says Pennsylvania will commit $235 million in contracts for work on the big federal interstate system in the next two years.

STATE, FEDERAL FUNDS

In addition, the state plans to commit $132 million in contracts for construction on the primary (rural) and urban federal aid systems during the period.

Both figures represent the total of federal and state aid for the work. The federal government pays 90 per cent of construction costs on the interstate system and half of the expense for work on the other two systems.

Details of the spending program were made known over the weekend by Highways Secretary Park H. Martin. It will mean an eventual speedup of work on a number of key interstate projects. The include:

BOY IS FATALLY SHOT IN TRUCK ON MOUNTAIN

A 17-year-old Richmond Furnace youth apparently committed suicide Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock when a truck he had taken in the morning from a friend was located just west of the crest of Mt. Newman along the Lincoln Highway.

State police said Robert Temple Jarrell, of Richmond Furnace, had, as a major interest in life, the tractor-trailer owned by a neighbor, Carl Leo Rosenberry of Richmond Furnace. The youth became a close friend of Rosenberry's, often visited there and helped work around Rosenberry's "rig."

Sunday morning the Rosenberrys were at church, and sometime between 9:30 and 10 o'clock the Jarrell youth apparently went to the Rosenberry home and drove off in the tractor-trailer, carrying with him his .22 caliber rifle.

HEARD SHOT

Police said Carl Rosenberry and his brothers, Robert and Edgar, when the tractor-trailer was found missing, suspecting the Jarrell youth might have "borrowed" it without permission to practice driving it, went in search of the vehicle.

As they reached the crest of Mt. Newman, driving west, they saw the tractor-trailer ahead of them.

The youth apparently saw the Rosenberry car approaching because he drove the tractor-trailer to the side of the road and stopped. As the Rosenberrys' car pulled up behind the "rig" the men heard a shot. They rushed to the cab and found the Jarrell youth with a shot through his head and his .22 rifle beside him.

WAS DESPONDENT

The men rushed the young man to the Chambersburg hospital. Upon their arrival there at 4:45 o'clock Sunday afternoon the Franklin County coroner, John P. Manges, declared the youth dead of the shot through the right temple.

Local state police, who investigated, said they were informed the young man had been despondent for some time as a result of "trouble with a girl friend," according to the officers.

Funeral arrangements are being made through the John Aggett Funeral Home, Dry Run.

DISMISS ALLEN AS EXECUTIVE FOR CBPA HERE

The board of directors of the Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association, at a meeting Sunday afternoon at the Hotel Gettysburg, terminated the services of Marshall Allen as executive director of the association.

President John J. Coughlin said Dr. Robert Bloom, secretary of the association will have general supervision of the office here until a new executive director is named. Allen served since last summer.

The board expressed its appreciation to Parade magazine for its recent offer to the public of a map and pictures in connection with the Civil War, from the sale of which the Preservation Association receives a share of the proceeds.

The board decided to complete payment of the sum still owing on the Wolf farm, located between Devil's Den and Big Round Top. The original purchase had been made on a basis of several payments over a period of time. The board directed its attorney to arrange for payment soon of the remainder owing so that a presentation of the land to the National Park service may be made at an appropriate ceremony probably this summer.

President Coughlin reported the finances of the association "in excellent shape" in connection with current commitments and expressed the belief that expected increased contributions during the coming summer may permit additional purchases of land for the battlefield.

While planning a change in the director, the association will continue with purposes and activities unchanged, Coughlin said.

SHORB IS SENT TO WORKHOUSE AGAIN BY COURT

Daniel Francis Shorb, a painter in his early 30's, who told the Adams County court Saturday he has never held an auto driver's license, was sentenced to from 11 to 23 months in the Allegheny County Workhouse on a charge of driving while his license was suspended.

Shorb, father of three children, had previously been sentenced in November, 1958, to 11 to 23 months in the Allegheny Workhouse on other charges arising from operation of a motor vehicle.

In court Saturday, state police said Trooper Bernard Rhodes came upon Shorb February 11 while he was driving on the Fairfield Rd. Officer Rhodes chased Shorb's car to the Zora intersection and then into Emmitsburg. From there the chase led onto the campus of Mount St. Mary's College until it came to a dead end road at the college's dairy farm. Police said Shorb stopped his car, then put it in reverse and slammed his vehicle into the front of the police car. Police said Shorb then sought to run away but was caught and handcuffed.

FAMILIAR PATTERN

Shorb's prior 11 to 23-month sentence in the Allegheny Workhouse came about as a result of the following sequence of activities: July 4, 1958, Sgt. Joseph Tappe began to chase Shorb at speeds in

PREFERS TO SERVE TIME IN JAIL; GETS WORKHOUSE

Lloyd Kenneth Bare, alias William A. Goldman, Aspers R. 1, and Florida, was sentenced to from six to 12 months in the Allegheny County Workhouse by the Adams County court Saturday.

Goldman told the court he is 43 and has served 14 years in jail on various charges. When he was sentenced to the workhouse he asked the court if he could "serve this out at the sheriff's place" but the court denied the request.

Goldman told the court: "I owe Uncle Sam two years at Atlanta" as a parole violator. District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter started to give the court details of the operation that led to two false pretense charges against Goldman as a result of purchase of a car and tires and repairs to the car, eventual sale of the auto in Springfield, Ill., and settlement later, but the court declared that "it would take an auditor to figure out the whole proceedings." Goldman had entered pleas to the two charges and said an arrangement had been worked out between those victimized with which they were "satisfied" from money received and disposition of the car and tires.

He said he was returning the car to its owner when apprehended. The court asked why, if he had been in York, and was planning to return the car, police caught him headed toward Gettysburg on the Fairfield Rd. Neely said he had visited some friends in the Fairfield area and was enroute from there when arrested.

Hubert L. Wise, 215 W. High St., was sentenced to from three to six months in the county jail and ordered to pay the costs on an aggravated assault and battery charge on which he was found guilty by a jury last week. Wise had cut another man in the abdomen with a penknife during an argument.

CONSIDER NEW LAW FOR MOTOR VEHICLE DEATH

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Lawrence administration is considering a new approach to prosecuting persons responsible for deaths on Pennsylvania's highways.

The proposal is being whipped together for submission to the legislature at a later date. A brainchild of the state police, the proposal is regarded by its boosters as a more effective way of prosecuting persons who cause deaths on the highways by reckless driving, speeding or, in general, by violating traffic laws.

Specifically, the proposal would create a "death by motor vehicle" charge to fill what many authorities consider to be a big gap in state laws for prosecution of cases involving fatalities.

WON'T REDUCE PENALTY

"This is not a thing to reduce the penalty," Walter W. Geisley, Gov. Lawrence's executive secretary, said Sunday. "It is to put a penalty in the law for use if the more serious charge cannot be sustained."

The legislation is being held up for a Justice Department study to determine if the penalties should be changed. In its present form it would provide for up to three years' imprisonment or fine of $2,000 or both.

"We have recommended the establishment of the charge 'causing a death by motor vehicle' because our experience has shown us that in a great number of cases juries are misled by the word manslaughter," said State Police Commissioner Frank G. McCartney.

LIGHT SENTENCE

"It seems that in the minds of many people, manslaughter is something very much like murder," he added. "Very often juries will not convict on this charge because they know the defendant, whatever his mistakes, did not commit murder."

"But the result is that such defendants are let off with very light penalties."

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The Texas Department of Public Safety reported today one of its patrol cars has spotted what may be the wreckage of a plane near Johnson City.

An intensive air and ground search was on in the area for Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson's private plane, missing since Sunday night. Only the pilot and copilot were aboard.

State police had no details. The big white Convair 240 vanished in the fog during a 65-mile flight from Austin to the Johnson ranch near Johnson City.

The vice president himself directed a night-long search from his ranch home. The craft is privately owned and was used by Johnson in last year's presidential campaign.

said his four daughters had been home for a reunion on Friday night and he "overdid" himself and overslept Saturday morning.

Albert E. Scheck became the first resident of Gettysburg R. 6 to go to jail. The new route came into existence Saturday. Borough Policeman Raymond Menges said he had brought a charge of driving while under the influence against Scheck when he was called to investigate an accident in which a station wagon operated by Scheck struck a parked vehicle. Officer Menges said Scheck had told him he had "one bottle to drink—whiskey." Scheck was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail and ordered to pay a $100 fine and costs. He was given 90 days' probation after serving the prison term sentence to pay the fine and costs.

"SMUGGLERS" SENTENCED

William Frayne Amann, Gettysburg R. 4, and Richard Francis Ross, Brooklyn, N. Y., were each sentenced to serve three months in the county jail following the expiration of their present terms for smuggling coffee, Pream, saccharine and fruit cake into their cells via a rope. Mrs. Amann provided the rope and articles. Amann asked the court to show "leniency to my wife. I gave her a criminal record for a cup of coffee."

The court said it was satisfied that Mrs. Amann was "under compulsion of her husband" for her part in the crime and suspended sentence, placed her on probation for a year and ordered that she pay the costs.

60 DAY SENTENCE

Edward W. Wetzel, Fairfield R. 1, was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail and ordered to pay the costs on a charge of aggravated assault and battery brought after he, according to Sheriff Dawson Miller, "worked on Vince Reese with an axe during a drunken brawl."

John H. Potter, Spring Grove R. 2, paid a fine of $25 and costs on an assault and battery charge brought by Cleatus O. Wentz Jr. Potter said Wentz "and my wife had an argument over pay for transportation and he called her a liar. A couple of fellows said he had called her other names. I saw him and he said tomorrow he was going to call her worse and I slapped him."

Four men appearing before the court on charges of driving while their licenses were suspended were each placed on probation for one year and ordered to pay $150 for the use of the county and the costs. They were Norman D. Little, Gettysburg R. 5; Larry David Lefler, Fairfield R. 2; Philip L. Little, 107 Hanover St., and Elmer R. Bittle, Littlestown R. 1.

MAY INCREASE SENTENCES

Taking note of the number of defendants who had been before him Saturday morning on charges of driving while licenses were suspended, Judge W. C. Sheely said: "Up to now we have been letting defendants off with a $150 fine. We may have to change that practice and make the sentence greater. There is no excuse for anyone to drive during suspension. It is a deliberate defiance of the law."

Harry J. Reese, Fairfield R. 1, was ordered to pay a fine of $300 for the use of the county and the costs on a charge of furnishing intoxicants to a minor, Robert E. Reese, Fairfield R. 1, was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 for the use of the county and the costs on a charge of "conspiracy to commit an unlawful act" in fleeing from police at 85 miles per hour on W. Confederate Ave. The court said that if they default on the fines they will spend three months in jail.

Gilson Sheffer, Washington, formerly of Gettysburg, who told the court that he is wanted by the Army, was given a suspended sentence and placed on probation for a year on condition he make restitution of $25 and costs on a worthless check issued to a local service station and $40 and costs on a worthless check issued to a store at Camp Hill. He said he had $200 in back pay coming to him from the Army which would pay the amounts, and that if he is released from the Army he will live with his mother in Washington. He had been in jail one month awaiting sentence.

Ronald L. Leonard, York, appearing before the court on a charge of failing to support an illegitimate child, was directed to renew bail until March 14 when he will appear for sentence.

John A. Orner, Gettysburg R. 5, who had entered a plea of guilty to a charge of stealing $23.57 from a cash box at Zeigler Brothers farm, was given a suspended sentence and placed on probation for one year on condition he make restitution of the amount and pay the costs within 60 days. He told the court he had gone to the farm for eggs, had thought someone was in the egg room in the cellar of the house. He went there, he said, found no one there but located a cash box between two rafters. He took the box, took the money from it and threw the box away, he said. He told the court he took the money because "I had a lot of bills coming due and didn't know how to pay them."

year, 37,500 the second, and 50,000 thereafter. Total cost: $577.5 million.

Continuation of the 10-year-old program of long-term, low-interest loans to colleges and universities for dormitory construction, at a rate of $250 million a year for five years. Total cost: $1.3 billion.

Establishment of a similar loan program for the construction of college classrooms, libraries, laboratories and other academic facilities, at the rate of $300 million a year for five years. Total cost: $1.5 billion.

NO MONEY TO BUILD

No funds were recommended for constructing schools or paying church school teachers' salaries. But no distinction was made between public and private institutions regarding college scholarships and loans to colleges.

Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois announced he was ready with a Republican substitute for Kennedy's education program.

Dirksen's measure is a four-year $1 billion proposal. Federal aid, to be matched by the states, would be limited to construction of classrooms.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., opposes federal contributions to teachers' salaries.

CHANGE ACT OF 1958

Kennedy said he will ask Congress at a later date to amend and expand the National Defense Education Act of 1958. The act authorizes the college student loan program and emphasizes improved instruction in science, mathematics and modern foreign languages.

He also said his administration will review the government's current programs in vocational education.

The President told Congress, "This is a modest program with ambitious goals."

It does, indeed, fall far short of the recommendations he received from his special task force on education last month, and short even of the aid to education bill which died in Congress last year after passage in the Senate.

GRANTS TO STATES

Kennedy's proposed grants to the states for classroom construction or teachers' salaries would cost $666 million the first year, $766 million the second, and $866 million the third.

The task force, headed by President Frederick L. Hovde of Purdue University, called for $30 for each pupil in average daily attendance, plus $20 per pupil in states below 70 per cent of the national average income, plus $20 per pupil to cities over 300,000 population. The first-year cost was put at $1.5 billion.

The Senate bill passed last year called for an average of $20 per pupil with a first-year cost of $923 million.

During the first year, the amount of money made available under the administration program for each pupil in average daily attendance would range from a minimum of $15 in nine states and the District of Columbia to a high of $29.67 in Mississippi.

The formula for allotting the federal money is based on the state's total personal income per each child in average daily attendance compared with the national figures.

left turn, believing the turn signal on his car was working. He was pumping the brakes to slow his vehicle, police said, and the only light that was working on the rear of the car was a right brake light.

Police said Edward G. Snyder, 29, 236 S. Washington St., driving a Brinkerhoff moving van, saw the one light blinking and believed it a signal that Arnsberger planned to make a right turn.

Snyder had swung his truck out to pass on the left in the belief that the car was about to turn right when Arnsberger started to make the turn. The truck struck the side of the car, causing $90 to the sedan and $10 to the truck.

Sunday School teacher, was sentenced to five days in the county jail and ordered to pay $100 for the use of the county and the costs on a charge of driving while under the influence. She was divorced since 1942 and supported two daughters since, the court was told, and held three jobs simultaneously to provide enough funds to send one daughter to college. The assistant pastor of the National Presbyterian Church said Mrs. Campbell is head of a Sunday School department there and that she "hopes she may be present to teach Sunday."

Charles M. Williams, 107 N. Queen St., Littlestown, was given a suspended sentence on a malicious mischief charge on condition he make restitution of $50 and pay the costs.

Fred Fissel, Orrtanna, was given a suspended sentence on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and placed on probation for one year. He was given 60 days in which to pay a fine of $100 and the costs.

Out Of The Past
From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times
ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO
A Southern Bullet: On opening the "South Branch Intelligencer," published at Romney, Va.,
on Monday last, we found a bullet enclosed in the paper. We presume it is given as a specimen of the kind of missiles they will furnish us when Virginia secedes.
We know the Editor, however, and rather think he is, like ourselves, very much inclined to a peaceable settlement of the controver and would be very loth to clap such a deadly little article behind powder, and point it hither, the more especially as we bear the same name.

The Southern Congress: The Southern Congress has by formal charge all questions of difference between the seceding States and the United States in reference to the possession of forts, dockyards and other Government property, and directed the President of the Confederacy to notify the Governors of the States of the fact. This action relieves South Carolina from her responsibility in relation to Fort Sumter, and decreases the apprehension of immediate hostilities occurring.
A resolution was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs directing them to inquire and report upon the expediency, as soon as the President is inaugurated, of sending commissioners to the Government of the United States.

The President Elect: Left his home at Springfield, Ill., enroute for Washington, on Monday Feb.
11. He has been received with the greatest enthusiasm every place he visited, as well as along the whole route of his travel, by the shouts of thousands, the firing of cannon, and military and civic display. He reached Indianapolis on Monday, Cincinnati on Tuesday, Columbus on Wednesday, Pittsburgh on Thursday, Cleveland on Friday, Buffalo on Saturday. He spent the sabbath in Buffalo, attending church with Ex-President Fillmore, and dining with him.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Burgess Tipton: The re-election of Burgess Tipton for a third term is a matter for congratula-tion by the friends of law and good order. He did not desire a re-election, in fact he had declined a nomination. But he had good officer, resolutely and im-partially enforcing the Sunday and Liquor laws, as well as borough ordinances, that a number of prominent citizens insisted on his accepting the position again.
He had given office in certain quarters by a fearless discharge of his official duties, and against his re-election the special efforts of the mal-contented were directed. He received generous support from reputable Democrats, and has reason to feel gratified over the popular endorsement on Tuesday.

Borough Election: — Clean Republican Sweep — The Republicans of Gettysburg were in good fighting trim on Tuesday, and swept the field, carrying all three wards, and electing all their candidates for ward officers—a result that has not been achieved since the division of the borough into wards. Mr. Hill for Justice and Mr. Remmel for Tax Collector had no opposition—the Democrats having no one willing to contest the race with the former, and the Republicans having no aspirant for the collec-torship.

Fitz-John Porter: The "Boys in Blue" don't believe in rewarding Fitz-John Porter for his shameless refusal to obey Gen.
Pope or to march to the relief of his imperiled comrades at the battle of Bull Run. At the session of the Illinois commandery, at Springfield on Thursday, the following resolution was adopted, with but eight or ten out of the 2,000 delegates present voting against it: Resolved, That it is the sense of the delegates of the Grand Army represented here that Fitz-John Porter should not be restored to the army, and that our Senators and Representatives in Congress are instructed to oppose said propositions.

Today's Talk

OUR "DEAN OF AMERICAN POETS"

Encompassing the years 1921-
23, the University of Michigan engaged Robert Frost—now
"dean of American poets"—on salary. The job did not call for Frost to occupy a dignified chair and hold classes in a barren room. Rather, his work was to mingle with the students, to talk with them about poetry and to discuss the ideals that the poetic mind naturally created. He was to be just himself—to prove that beauty is an asset in the world—and that without an appreciation of it, as well as a living of it, we shrink in value.

Much of the trouble with our ordinary life is that it is wrapped too suffocatingly in routine.
There is too little color. It is also why this "Poet in Residence" assignment proved to be such a highly successful experiment.
The University of Michigan grew in breadth because of the presence of one of the world's greatest poets in its midst.

It must have been an inspiring sight to see this stalwart poet walking about the Michigan campus. Just as it was on January 20, Inauguration Day, when the now-86-year-old poet braved Washington, D. C.'s snow and biting wind to recite so feelingly his poem "The Gift Outright," and to heroically attempt to read its "prelude" which he had written and dedicated to President John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

The dramatic effect of this beloved New Hampshire and Dartmouth College sage on the huge Inaugural assemblage, as on the live radio and TV audience, I feel was so deftly expressed in lines written by Naomi Moss (one of my business associates)
as to merit quoting. I do so.
He stood before the throng. Bare head.
The wind dispersed the things he said.
Our land and all within rejoiced
To hear his words, supremely voiced
To this, our country, and its choice.

So long as the world lasts the poet—as exemplified in Robert L. Frost—will remain as one of the inspirers of our hope and faith in all things good and great.
Had our world more poets, there would be fewer hot and "cold" wars!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Never Be Stumped"

Matthew Adams Service

Just Folks

WORRY
Used to worry when she cried;
Used to tremble when she fell.
Many an anxious sigh we've sighed
When she wasn't feeling well.
Now to lovely girlhood grown,
Worried still I find we have.
Oh, so fast the years have flown!
Daughter wants to drive the car.

Used to worry years ago
When she first began to walk;
Worried when we thought her slow
Learning little words to talk.
Later hoped our fears were o'er,
Done with tumble, jolt and jar.
Now we're worrying more and more,
Daughter wants to drive the car.

Worried over roller skates,
Bicycle we viewed with dread.
Must it be that fear swaits
Always as we move ahead?
She's come through those early years
Happily without a scar.
Now a greater risk appears,
Daughter wants to drive the car.

Lenten Prayer for Today

from Go With God
For God's Mercy

O GOD, our Father, Who dost exhort us to pray, and Who dost grant what we ask, if only, when we ask, we live a better life: Hear me—who am trembling in this darkness. Stretch forth Thy Hand unto me! Ah, hold forth Thy Light before me; ah, recall me from my wanderings, that, Thou being my guide, I may be restored to myself and Thee, through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, my Lord: Amen.

Woe is me! Lord: have pity on me: woe is me! Lord: I hide not my wounds: Thou art the Physician, I the sick; Thou merciful, I miserable.

Is not the life of man upon the earth a temptation? Who is he that wishes for vexations and difficulties? Thou commandest them to be endured, not to be loved. For no man loves what he endures, though he may love to endure. For notwithstanding he rejoices to endure, he would rather there were naught for him to endure. In adversity, I desire prosperity; in prosperity, I fear adversity. What middle place, then, is there between these, where human life is not a temptation? Woe unto the prosperity of this world, once and again, from fear of misfortune and of corruption of joy! Woe unto the adversities of this world, once and again, and for the third time, from the desire of prosperity, and because adversity itself is a hard thing, and makes of endurance shipwreck!

It is not the life of man upon earth a temptation, and that without intermission? And my whole hope is only in Thy exceeding great mercy: give what Thou commandest and command what Thou wilt.

—St. Augustine, from Miserere Mei, Deus

Warner, Parker Star As Bullets Nip Leopards; Delaware Here Tonight

Superb foul shooting on the part of the Bullets and the outstanding efforts of one of the top backcourt combinations in the east paved the way for Gettysburg's 80-72 victory over Lafayette Saturday night in Easton before a near capacity crowd.

With the exception of a couple of moments in both halves, neither team was able to build more than a one or two-point lead. On two occasions, the Bullets managed to take a four count margin, once in each half, and with 1:15 left in the game Bob Hulton's cagers led 78-72. Lafayette's largest lead was a three-point 65-62 edge with 7:00 minutes remaining in the contest.

Scoring from the free throw line was the difference in the Gettysburg's win. Both teams tallied 27 goals but the Bullets landed 26 of 30 fouls while Lafayette hit on 22 of 30. The bullets also turned in an excellent shooting percentage as they connected on 27 of 48 shots. Ron Warner netted nine of 11 field goals tries while Bob Parker was seven for 12. Warner also had a perfect 12 for 12 from the free throw line to give him 30 tallies for the night.

SETS NEW RECORD
With 4:15 minutes remaining in the first half, Warner broke one more Gettysburg College record. At that point in the contest, the York ace landed the 40th field goal of his career. Bill Snyder held the old mark of 407 which he accomplished in three years. Warner still has five games to go in his second season.

Lafayette drew first blood as Pete Pavia landed a foul following the first 30 seconds. Warner came back for the Bullets to net a free throw and from this point on it was anyone's game as the count saw-sawed continuously. The officials chipped in by calling 25 close fouls against both teams. The score was in a 41-41 deadlock at intermission.

Gettysburg bounced out in the second half and scored two quick goals by Ted Koerner and Bill Heming. The game remained that way until the 6:40 mark when Parker re-entered the contest. Parker was charged with four personals in the first half and sat out over half the ball game. The Yeardon flash went on a scoring spree and netted 13 straight points to give Gettysburg a 75-69 lead with four minutes remaining and the Bullets were never behind after that.

Chip Lundy, Lafayette ace from Camp Hill, paced the Leopards with 27 points, and 15 rebounds. Bob Parker tallied 21 points for the winners giving the Gettysburg backcourt combination of Warner and Parker a total of 51 points.

Bob Hulton's cagers, 14-6 on the season and 6-4 in Middle Atlantic Conference competition, will tangle with their second straight MAC foe, Delaware (79), tonight in the Eddie Plank gym. The Freshman squads will tangle in the 6:45 p.m. preliminary.

Hawks May Clinch Western Cage Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The St. Louis Hawks can back into the Western Division championship of the National Basketball Association tonight.

The Los Angeles Lakers, only team with a chance of tying the Hawks, meet the Syracuse Nationals in Morgantown, W. Va. A Nat victory and the Hawks are in. The Hawks could have gotten home clear Sunday, but they dropped a 123-100 decision to the New York Knickerbockers, who hold down last place in the Eastern Division. St. Louis doesn't play again until Tuesday night, when they entertain Cincinnati.

In other action Sunday, the Boston Celtics downed the Syracuse Nationals 116-106, and the Cincinnati Royals turned back the Los Angeles Lakers 112-106.

The Boston-Syracuse game, nationally televised, was halted twice in the second half by rhu-barbs. Boston Coach Red Auerbach protested loud and clear at a call by referee Pete D'Ambrosia at one point. A few minutes later, the crowd showered the court with debris by way of protesting a call in favor of the Celtics. Syracuse Coach Alex Hannum was thrown out at the end of the melee.

BUFFALO WINS; TAKES SECOND PLACE IN AHL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Springfield Indians may be too far ahead in the American Hockey League to be caught before the season ends. But the Buffalo Bisons' efforts to catch up are paying off at the gate, and it looks as if they'd be the club to be feared when playoff time rolls around.

The Bisons, whose only defeat in the last ten games was an overtime loss to Springfield Jan. 11, got even for that one and moved back into second place Sunday night by blanking the Indians 4-0. And they had 11,004 home fans on hand to see rookie goalie Dennis DeJordy turn in his third shutout of the season.

The victory put the Bisons a point ahead of the Cleveland Barons, who had moved up to second with a 6-2 Saturday triumph over Providence. The Hershey Bears and Rochester Americans remained tied for the fourth and last playoff spot.

HERSHEY IN SHUTOUT
Rochester, a 4-3 overtime loser to Springfield Saturday, came back and trounced the last-place Providence Reds 5-2 while Hershey handed the floundering Quebec Aces a 3-0 shutout.

Buffalo's high scoring line of Larry Wilson, Wayne Hicks and Dick Gamble again provided most of the fireworks for the Bisons. Wilson scored two goals and assisted on one by Hicks; Gamble had three assists and Hicks two. Barry Cullen was the other goal getter.

For Hershey Willie Marshall, Les Duff and John Mackenzie scored the goals and Bob Perreault blocked 29 shots by the Aces, who now have one tie and seven defeats in their last eight games.

Rochester also got some nifty goal tending from Ed Chadwick and was leading 4-0 midway in the third period when the Reds came to life and got a couple of shots past the Amerk goalie. Rookie Wally Boyer and Gerry Ehman each scored twice for Rochester. It was the Amerks ninth victory in 10 games against the Reds.

TRACK, FIELD RECORDS SEEM TO BE ENDLESS

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Up, up, up climb the "magic figures" in track and field.

You don't need a long memory to recall when the four-minute mile was just a remote possibility and the 16-foot pole vault was spoken of in whispers.

Now, with the indoor season less than half over, a whole list of records are in jeopardy.

Start with the mile. It never has been run in four minutes indoors because of the numerous turns on banked tracks. Ron Delany's 4:01.4 is the record. But Istvan Rozsavolgyi, the skinny Hungarian army captain, has his sights set on this first indoor four-minute job.

VERY CONFIDENT
He is confident he can do it. His best to date in five races this season is 4:04, but he hit 4:01.8 in chasing Delany to the Irishman's record two years ago.

The pole vault? Don Bragg's 15-9 1/2 still stands as the indoor record. Bragg always has had his heart set on becoming the first man to get over 16 feet.

Discouraged because of assorted ills early this season, he wanted to quit. Then, two weeks ago in Philadelphia, he barely missed at 16 feet. Last week in the New York Athletic Club games, he again just did it the crossbar after getting his body safely over.

Now he is sure that he'll get over 16 feet before the end of the season.

HIGH JUMP
How high can they go in the high jump?

Probably only Valery Brumel, the 18-year-old Soviet whiz kid, can answer that. He made 7-3 in his debut on boards here last week, but jumped 7-4 1/2 in Leningrad less than a month ago.

Brumel came within a hair of clearing 7-5 last week. He is a confident fellow, and thinks around 7-6 1/2 is about as high as any human can climb.

Then there is the 60-yard high hurdles.

HURDLES, HIGH JUMP
Hayes Jones is co-holder of the record of 7 seconds with Milt Campbell. The latter has retired, so the Ypsilanti, Mich., school teacher has the field to himself.

"If I could only get just a little better start on that first hurdle," said Jones recently, "I just might be able to shave a tenth of a second off the time."

The broad jump? Just three nights ago, Ralph Boston of Tennessee A&I became the first jumper in history to soar over 26 feet indoors. He made 26-1, and the end is not in sight.

Wheatley Stable has an aptly named 2-year-old in Batter Up. He is the son of Tom Fool — Striking.

Monti Wins 4-Man Bobsled Crown

LAKE PLACID, N. Y. (AP) — Eugenio Monti, the world's champion bobsledder, feels there are few fields left to conquer and today indicated he'll let someone else have a fling at all the glory.

The sandy-haired Italian, winner of the two-man world title a week ago, was awarded the four-man championship Sunday after rain washed away the final two heats. It was his second consecutive double crown and this time he made it by the slimmest of margins — three-tenths of a second.

That was the lead he held over Stan Benham of Lake Placid after Saturday's first two heats. Gunar Ahs of Sweden was third. Franz Schelle of Germany fourth and Great Britain's Bill McCowen fifth. The other U.S. entry, Larry McKillop of Saranac Lake, N. Y., finished sixth.

"I'm getting tired," Monti said, "and I don't really know if I want to go on racing. Maybe I won't run next year."

ST. FRANCIS SPLITS PAIR OVER WEEKEND

The St. Francis Xavier School dribblers divided a pair of games over the weekend, defeating Sacred Heart of Glyndon, Md., 27-11 here Saturday and then sustaining their second loss of the season 26-19 at the hands of St. Andrew's at Waynesboro Sunday.

In Saturday's game the Red Raiders took an early lead and led the way as Coach Cal Lovett used his substitutes freely. Dave Knox topped all scorers with seven points.

Johnny Flynn collected seven points as the local Fifth and Sixth grade team won the preliminary 24-14.

On Sunday the Raiders jumped to an 8-6 lead in the first period but fell behind 14-12 at half time as St. Andrew's gradually stretched its lead in the second half. Ronnie Redding was high man for the game with 12 tallies.

In the preliminary the Xavier jayvees bowed 15-7 as St. Andrew's put on a strong finish to cap the verdict.

St. Francis, (now 12-2) travels to Hanover Tuesday evening to meet St. Joseph's in a league game at 6:45 o'clock.

WANTED PAR
"I just hit it," said the elated youngster. "I had no idea it would go in. All I was trying to do was get close to the pin for a par."

Hill also had something to jump about a few minutes earlier when his 15-foot putt dropped for an eagle 3 on the par-5, 510-yard 18th hole. This gave him a 5-under-par 65 for the round and a 72-hole total of 269.

Sullivan stood up under pressure by coming out of trees for a birdie on the 18th. Bolt also had 269.

Bolt missed a 10-foot putt for a birdie on the first extra hole by less than an inch. All three took par fours for the 368-yard hole.

PARRED NO. 2 HOLE
Bolt went for victory on the second hole with a 20-foot chip shot from the apron that rimmed the cup and hung on the lip. He had to settle for a par 4 on the 450-yard No. 2 hole. So did Hill and Sullivan. The end came on the next green.

Charles Sifford, perennial National Negro champ, started the final round only a stroke behind Sullivan. He watched seven putts stop within two inches of the cup to give him a 71 and a tie with Art Wall Jr. at 9-under-par 271. Each got $1,150.

Jay Hebert, co-leader at the halfway mark, was in a group of five with 272. The others were Dave Marr, Mason Rudolph, Marty Furgol, Jack Cupit and Gary Player. This brought them $35 apiece.

Lowrey Captures Baseball Golf Title

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Little Peanut Lowrey outdrove and outputted his rivals to win the baseball players golf championship with a final round of 72 and a 72-hole score of 295.

Lowrey's two-over-par finish Sunday gave him a three stroke triumph over Baltimore Manager Paul Richards, who shot a 74 for a 298 total at the Miami Springs course.

The 5-foot-9 coach of the Philadelphia Phillies credited his victory to long smashes off the tees and to his steady putting game.

Alvin Dark San Francisco Giants manager also had a fine round, coming in with a 74 to tie defending champion Jim Hearn former Philadelphia pitcher for third place at 301.

Ralph Terry, New York Yankee right-hander, was fifth with a 78 for a 305 total. Paul Waner, the veteran hall of famer and Jimmy Davenport, Giant third baseman, were tied for sixth at 307.

Lafayette College was forced to go right down to the wire before capturing a 23-11 decision over the Gettysburg wrestling team Saturday afternoon in the Eddie Plank gym.

After forfeiting the first two events and losing the third via a pin, the Bullets came back strong to seize the next three bouts. Bob Girvan decided Mike McDewitt 7-4 in the 147-pound class. Jim White turned in an outstanding performance by decisioning former MAC 157-pound titlist John Brown and John Young pinned Bob Hanson in 4:31 in the 167-pound match. ## DAVE HILL COPS TUCSON OPEN IN SUDDEN DEATH

By MURRAY SINCLAIR
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—A 27-foot desperation putt good for a birdie on the third hole Sunday gave Dave Hill of Jackson, Mich., victory in the sudden death playoff for top money in the $20,000 Tucson Open golf tournament.

Former U.S. Open champ Tommy Bolt and California rookie Buddy Sullivan quietly headed for the clubhouse as the 23-year-old Hill leaped for joy. It was his first PGA victory.

The putt that wasn't meant to fall earned $2,800 for Hill and trimmed Bolt and Sullivan's shares to $1,670 each.

WANTED PAR

Will Expand Junior Baseball In E. Berlin

The East Berlin Junior Baseball program will be carefully studied at a meeting at 8 o'clock tonight in the VFW home in East Berlin, with the view of expanding the effort. The committee is headed by Leonard Myers.

In the past years several persons have tried to develop the junior program but this year an East Berlin Community Junior Baseball Association is to be formed which will supervise, finance and administer baseball for juniors. Myers said this is a program that the boys are interested in and he requests that parents and other interested men attend this meeting.

Rudolph Sets Mark In 70-Yard Dash

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The $64,000 question of the track world is: "What will it take to stop William Rudolph?"

Miss Rudolph romped home in 7.8 or two-fifths second under the old 8.2 record set in 1935 by Stella Walsh of Poland.

Mount Takes Pair For 12-0 Mason-Dixon Mark; At W. Maryland Tonight

Mt. St. Mary's swept a pair of Mason-Dixon Conference games over the weekend by nipping Randolph-Macon 89-83 at Emmitsburg Saturday evening and routing Washington College 78-66 at Chestertown, Md., Sunday. The victories left the Mountainers with a 12-0 conference mark and 18-3 record overall.

Tonight the Mount plays its third game in as many days when it tangles with Western Maryland at Westminster in another M-D contest.

Saturday's game start was delayed 45 minutes until the officials were able to get through the dense fog enroute to Emmitsburg.

The Mount started slowly but then picked up steam to lead by 12 points at half time at 45-33. Randolph-Macon came out strong in the second half and knotted the score at 60-60 with 10:10 left. It was nip and tuck the rest of the way. With 5:50 left the Yellow Jackets were in front 70-67.

Mt. St. Mary's forged ahead 73-72 with 3:54 remaining and led the rest of the way as Ed Pfeiffer, who was on the bench due to early personal fouls, re-entered the game to lead his team to victory.

SAVAGE GETS BALL
Jerry Savage was awarded the basketball at the end of the game for having boosted his career point production to 1,044, fifth highest in Mount history.

Sunday's game found the Mountainers leading all the way although the scrappy Shoremen several times pulled up to dangerous quarters. John O'Reilly, who connected for 20 points, led the Mount to a 25-15 lead midway in the first half but Washington, via the shooting of Rene Duval, fought back to within 31-27 with 2:00 left in the half. O'Reilly, Pfeiffer and Dick Talley boosted the Mount lead at half to 37-30.

Washington crawled to within 41-38 before the Phelan-men spurred to a 50-40 advantage only to have the Shoremen come back again to cut the margin to 55-49. Midway in the half the Mount held its biggest lead at 70-55 and then Washington reeled off nine straight points before Jack Campbell came off the bench to land five straight fouls to insure the decision.

Let's Look At The Record

ELECTORAL COLLEGE, RAH, RAH!!!
Sen. Mansfield Could Abolish Electors
Reform Doomed To Certain Failure

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
 President, Wisconsin State College, Superior

SENATOR MIKE MANSFIELD, Democrat from Montana and majority leader for the Upper House, wants to abolish the Electoral College.

It happens to be one college that has no library, no faculty, no athletic scholarships, no football team, no fees and no students. But it has had yell leaders of a sort. It originated in the minds of the founding fathers as they sat in Philadelphia through the long, hot summer of 1787 and pondered every word, phrase and clause of the Constitution they would present to the people.

ONE OF THE FEW POINTS upon which there was unanimous agreement was that the new nation would not be a monarchy, empire, theocracy, dictatorship or oligarchy. But even so, they had grave doubts as to what the title of the "chief magistrate" should be. Someone suggested the word "president." Another delegate sneeringly remarked that cricket clubs had presidents.

The manner of election was even more difficult. The obvious solution was to have the President elected by direct choice of all the voters, or paying members, of the new republic. That was the way that the cricket clubs, horse racing societies, and other equalitarian groups selected their presidents.

BUT THE FOUNDING fathers were thoroughly practical men.

They feared that throughout the far flung, new Federal Union, from Florida to Quebec, and from the Atlantic to the Mississippi, there were so many scattered and isolated communities the voters could not possibly become properly informed concerning all the candidates.

There was also the problem of the big states versus the little states; those distant from the center of things and those close at hand. And some delegates frankly believed that in a well balanced republic, the nation should be protected against the blandishments of both the silver-tongued persuader and the vehement, vitriolic, rabble rouser.

SOME SUGGESTED that both houses of Congress, sitting in joint session, should select the President. James Madison offered horrible historical examples against this. Besides, that would lead to an oligarchy.

Another delegate thought all the judges of the new nation might well have the presidential, electoral responsibility. There were objections because others thought the President should appoint the judges. That got the fathers into the dilemma as to the relative priority of the chicken or the egg.

THE FATHERS took themselves off the hook by creating the Electoral College. Each state would have as many electors as it had men in both houses of Congress. All congressmen and other office holders would be ineligible.

Having picked a President, they should return home to dignified private life. How the electors should be chosen would be determined by the laws of each state.

For decades some states chose their presidential electors in joint sessions of the two houses of the state legislature, which is probably what most of the Founding Fathers intended. The present system of all voters voting for electors pledged to cast their votes for designated candidates for President and vice president is the result of a long, slow, political evolution.

It came largely as a result of the railroads with their rapid and mass distribution of immediate, telegraphic news through daily newspapers. The greatest fear of the authors of the Constitution had been eliminated.

THOUGH THE CONFLICTING rivalries and suspicions of the small, or thinly populated states, versus the large and powerful, and the fears of the distant states that those closer to Washington may profit unfairly, are not as strong today as they were in 1787, they are strong enough that Montana's Senator Mansfield is certainly going to hear from home when he goes all out to abolish the Electoral College.

He will, of course, cheerfully and correctly explain to his Montana constituents that he necessarily pushes this measure as Democratic majority leader. Most of his western colleagues in both houses, however, will go on the line against abolition of the college. They will be joined by congressmen from the smaller states in the East.

ABOLITION of the Electoral College would reduce Montana's power in presidential elections. For example, Ohio's population of 9,637,371 has but 25 electoral votes. But the 4,073,733 citizens of Montana, North Dakota, Nevada, Idaho, Delaware, South Dakota, Vermont and Wyoming have 28 electoral college votes for a president.

The moment Senator Mansfield began rumbling about abolition of the Electoral College, New England Senators Smith and Saltonstall, who of course represent small state areas, rushed in with measures calculated to save the college.

And this gets us down to the first fearless forecast since the last election: Senator Mansfield's proposal is not likely to get the essential two-thirds vote in Congress, and if it does the states will not ratify it.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

These prayers written in Washington's hand when he was about 20, manifest the faith that fortified him through life: "... Let me live according to those holy rules which thou hast ... prescribed in thy holy word; make me to know what is acceptable in thy sight, and therein to delight ... let the world be filled with knowledge of Thee and thy son Jesus Christ ... bless the people of this land, be a father to the fatherless, a comforter to the comfortless ... O heavenly Father, so frame this heart of mine, that I may ever delight to live according to thy will ..."

Household Hints

The French use pepper, nutmeg, thyme and onion to season their famous Sauce Bechamel. You might like to try adding this group of seasonings to a white sauce.

To remove the skins from shelled filberts, place them in a shallow pan in a hot oven to toast; shake the pan several times. Then rub the hot nuts between the folds of a tea towel and most of the skin will come off.

Ever cook a chopped onion in a little butter and then add it to rice that's to be boiled? Go one step further for good flavor and use consommé instead of water for cooking the rice mixture.

Here's a delightful French dish: mince cooked artichoke hearts and add them to the seasoned egg mixture to be used for an egg omelet.

Parboiled small white onions and diced carrot and turnip make a delicious vegetable combination to add to a shoulder of lamb that's roasting.

When tomato sauce is to accompany veal chops that have a crisp brown coating, the sauce should be passed separately so that it doesn't have a chance to make the chops soggy.

You can add as much as a cup of grated cheddar cheese to a standard 2-cup flour baking-powder biscuit recipe. If you do, you'll have a couple more biscuits than usual!

Ever give chocolate cake a mint topping? Bake the cake batter in a square pan and place chocolate peppermint patties over the surface when you take it out of the oven. Return cake and patties to the oven for several minutes, then spread the softened peppermint chocolate evenly.

Some cooks like to check the oven thermostat occasionally with a portable oven thermometer.

The heat in the oven should circulate during cake baking, so leave space between the pans when you are baking layer cakes.

Cupcakes are usually baked at a moderate (350 to 375 degrees) temperature for 20 to 30 minutes.

The old-fashioned pinch or dash (in recipes) is less than 1/4 teaspoon.

Ever notice recipes for "gems" in old-fashioned cook books? These are none other than the ancestors of our modern muffins.

If you have a glass 1-quart measure, it's a good container in which to mix pancake batter.

Don't try to get the plate of your waffle iron spick and span! After long use, it acquires a seasoned surface that helps waffles bake well without sticking.

Some cooks like to heat their iron corn stick pans, greasing them first, before adding the corn meal batter.

If your pastry is tough, you may have added too much liquid to the dough.

It's a good idea to brush refrigerator rolls (made with a yeast dough) with melted butter before they go into the oven.

The Trans-Canada Highway, under construction since 1949, is expected to be completed in 1963.

NEGRO HELD FOR ROBBERY

IRWIN, Pa. (AP)—A 26-year-old ex-convict has been held for grand jury action on charges of armed robbery in the $22,900 holdup of the First National Bank of Herminie.

Norman C. Gray Jr. of Pittsburgh pleaded no defense Friday night at a hearing before Justice of the Peace John J. Wilson of Herminie.

Squire Wilson ordered Gray returned to the county jail. No bond was set. Gray was also charged with violating the uniform fire-arms act.

State police said Gray, a Negro, forced his way into the small Westmoreland County bank Thursday, herded seven employees into a vault and fled with the money stuffed in a shopping bag.

He was captured about five hours later on a farm in nearby Rillton after his getaway car bogged down in snow. All but $1,000 of the money has been recovered, state police reported.

7-year-old Boy Safe After 275-foot Fall Into Well

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Harry Stage, 7, who plunged 275 feet down a narrow pipe into a deep water well, is alive today because he knows how to mind his dad.

The brown-eyed youngster with tousled blond hair is recovering in Memorial Hospital from two broken legs, a fractured pelvis and possible internal injuries.

Harry was playing on a ranch 25 miles southwest of Phoenix Sunday while his dad, Ed, a driller, was talking to ranch owner Webb Faubion.

Climbing up on a platform, Harry jumped on a piece of plywood which concealed the pipe to an underground irrigation well.

Faubion said, "The boy just vanished."

SLOWED FALL
Harry plunged down the 16-inch pipe with 250 feet of water at the bottom. But there was one thing in his favor.

"That board helped compress air in the pipe," said Stage, "and this undoubtedly slowed his fall. But he couldn't tread water because of his broken legs and pelvis."

From the bottom of the pipe came Harry's voice, "Daddy, get me out of here."

"Don't worry, son, and don't be scared," replied his father. "We'll get you out. Just push against the sides of the pipe so you don't sink."

The dozen or so men now gathered at the scene heard Harry reply, "Okay, daddy, I will."

USED LARIATS
A lengthy cable was no help. It curled up about halfway down the pipe.

Then Stage decided he would try to slip down the pipe. No good. It was too tight.

Recalling a block and tackle at a neighbor's ranch, Faubion drove seven miles at high speed to get it. But its rope was gone.

Faubion stripped the ranch of lariats and hastened back.

Tied together, the lariats came to more than 300 feet. The line was dropped into the pipe.

Eagerly, the boy called, "Daddy I can hold on to it while you pull me up."

FOUNDER'S DAY TO BE MARKED AT PTA SESSION

Founder's Day will be observed at the monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association on Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the general purpose room of the Elementary School. "A Study of Kindergarten" will be the program theme and the guest speaker will be Mrs. A. Marsh, kindergarten teacher from Westminster. She will address the assembly on the subject "A Typical Day at Kindergarten."

Mrs. Robert V. Weaver is the February program chairman.

Following the business, there will be a social hour and refreshments will be served by Mrs. Kenneth Shannbrook, Mrs.

But the father wasn't going to gamble.

LOOP OVER SHOULDER
"No," he shouted, "you put the loop under both your shoulders."

Struggling in the pipe, Harry got the loop under his arms.

Spelling each other, the men pulled on the rope, hauling the boy up slowly. They stopped at intervals to be sure the loop was holding.

Finally, Harry was out, put aboard a waiting ambulance and taken to the hospital.

Faubion said, "He's the bravest and luckiest boy in Arizona."

Said his dad proudly, "He always did mind good."

U.S. Cooperation With New Government In Argentina Is Big Bulwark Against Reds

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst
BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The balmy midsummer air of this sunny capital has a feeling of urgency.

Here, says many an Argentinian, is the real test for Latin America: the great challenge for U.S. policy. Here, they contend, is a main battlefield in the struggle between forces of constitutional democracy and the combination of communism and Castroism.

Argentina, says its first freely elected president after the Juan Peron dictatorship, already is giving an extraordinary example to the rest of Latin America of how a people can help itself. Says slender, scholarly Arturo Frondizi:

WANT COOPERATION
"The United States must appreciate that it is fundamental and absolutely necessary to cooperate with all Latin America in its economic and social development."

"The important thing is for the United States to realize that it is not giving charity to 200 million Latin Americans, but making a contribution to the development of

The Altar Guild presented the altar flowers and the bulletins were given by William R. Warner and Mrs. W. Raymond Warner and family in memory of Francis H. Leese.

The Christ Church choir will rehearse Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The catechetical class will meet at the church on Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

OTHER CHURCH NEWS
"The Purpose of Lent" was the subject of the sermon delivered by the Rev. Glenn Finchbaugh, pastor of Redeemer's United Church of Christ, at the worship service Sunday morning. The Scripture was read from St. Luke 14:25-35. An anthem "Lo, A Voice to Heaven Sounding," Bortniansky, was sung by the Senior Choir, accompanied on the organ by Mrs. George A. Stonieser. The altar flowers were placed in memory of Mrs. Maurice W. Feeser by the family. It was announced that today is the deadline to submit stewardship project entries to Mrs. Marvin F. Breighner.

The Rev. William C. Karns, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, read the epistle lesson from II Corinthians 6:1-10 and the gospel lesson from Matthew 4:1-11, at the morning worship service Sunday. An anthem was sung by the Senior Choir and the pastor presented a sermon on the subject "The Fellowship of Prayer."

Raymond Reinaman, Francis Gerrick, John Morehead and Samuel Harman served as ushers for the worship. The altar flowers were placed by the Nursery Department. Announcement was made that Camp Nawakwa registration blanks can be secured from the pastor, filled out and returned to him. The project of remodeling the Junior Department and social room has been put out for bids. When council has definite information in the way of plans and costs, a special congregational meeting will be called at which time the matter will be brought up for a vote by the members.

Latin America's people."

Frondizi's minister of economy, hard-driving, dynamic Alvaro Alsogaray, gives the impression that he feels Argentina's government is involved in a race with time, to prove it can achieve what it has set out to do.

COULD HELP CASTRO
"If Argentina succeeds," he told me earnestly, "then other Latin American countries can succeed, too. If we fail, then Fidel Castro will gain significant help and far greater possibilities in Latin America."

The Argentine army, regarding itself as a sentinel over the constitution, has struck heavily against Peronistas, Communists, and Castroists alike. But still the germ of Castroism became deeply imbedded. It infected many in influential places—men and women able to command followings of dissatisfied workers, restless students, resentful intellectuals, all shades of unreasoning anti-Yankees.

"DISASTER AT POLLS"
In the ranks of labor, former dictator Juan D. Peron left a legacy of tough-core Peronistas who now cast blank ballots in elections. An effective voting alliance of these Peronistas with the extreme left could produce disaster at the polls for the future of orderly constitutional government in this rich, key South American nation. Already there have been instances of Communist-Peronist alliances on the union labor front and for purposes of terrorism directed against the Frondizi government.

The Communists have made good use of extreme Socialists and romantic students—makers of revolution—who regard Castro as a symbol of a wave of the future.

ELECT ANTI-YANKEE
The combination demonstrated its potential by jolting the Frondizi government in recent senatorial by-elections in the federal capital. They elected to Parliament 80-year-old Alfredo Palacios, for more than 50 years an ardent anti-Yankee.

Palacios seems to regard the United States, as he did when he entered the political arena in the early 1900s, as a nation dominated by super-greedy imperialists. He is worshiped by students as a founder of Argentina's university system. And students are an important political factor, since the voting age is 18.

HE HATES COMMIES
Palacios evidently hates communism as much as he hated Peronism. But he was attracted by Castro's Cuban regime when he visited Havana in 1959. Now in Argentina's Senate he may fill the role of catalyst to rally forces of the left for united opposition to Frondizi's program to bring economic recovery out of the wreckage left by the Peron dictatorship.

It is even possible that these factors, coupled with the threat of Peronist voting strength, can force the Frondizi government into a program with a far more leftist look in an effort to persuade Argentine workers that they have a stake in the government's future.

MAJOR TEST SOON
A major test will not be long in coming. Early in 1962 Argentina will elect half its Congress.

Much of the major legislation relating to the government's program of recovery through free private enterprise will have been pushed through by that time. But the opposition could impede its implementation.

Peron nationalized virtually every aspect of Argentina's economic life. The Frondizi government has reversed much of the nationalization and has produced a peso which has been remarkably sound and stable for more than a year.

AUSTERITY MEASURES
Frondizi has been required to adopt austerity measures, never popular, to produce stabilization of the currency and economic recovery.

The president says this recovery already has been largely achieved with some U.S. help but mainly by "the work and sacrifices of our own people." But Frondizi has a critical year ahead in which he must convince the voting public of a highly literate country that the sacrifices have been fair and equal among all classes.

"I'm sure," the president told me, "the people of the country will understand these measures have been for their own welfare."

But I talked to some restless students about it. They were not in a mood to understand. One, representing conservative thinking among Buenos Aires University's 65,000 students, insisted that the administration of Frondizi has "failed to reach the people."

For example, the student said, Economics Minister Alsogaray "represents big business and speaks in terms which can hardly be clear to the ordinary simple workers who once thought and probably still think that Evita Peron (wife of the dictator) was a saint."

MONEY BROKER BUSY FELLOW IN SECURITIES

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The money broker is a busy fellow in today's livelier securities market.
He is the middle man for foreign and domestic banks with idle funds and the investor who scents a good thing in a bond or stock but hasn't the cash handy to swing the deal.
There are only a few such brokers in the field and demand for their services fluctuates widely. During the big 1958 flurry in U.S. government bonds, single loans ran as high as $50 million. (The bonds dropped so far below redemption price as to tempt many with little cash.)
D. H. Blair & Co. estimates that on an average day around $4.5 million in new loans are floated and perhaps $600 million are outstanding. It has handled as much as $30 million in a day and usually has about $200 million outstanding.

HOW HE WORKS

Garvin-Bantel & Co. says it has had as much as $140 million from one bank alone to place.
Here is how the money broker works:

He keeps in contact with many banks. D. H. Blair, for example, has some 250 correspondent banks in the United States, Canada and overseas. One of these banks will tell the money broker the amount it can lend, for how long, and on what securities.
The money broker then informs partners of other brokerage houses with whom he is in close contact what funds are available on specified bonds, convertible debentures or common stock. He specifies what interest is asked on the loan and how long it can run.

EXTENDS PAPERS

If the brokerage house has a customer looking for a loan to carry such a security, the money broker extends the necessary papers, including the pledging of collateral (the securities themselves).

Most banks prefer to keep such loans to 90 days. But most borrowers renew for another period, at interest rates then prevailing, and most hold their investments for at least six months to establish long-term gains for tax purposes.

Interest rates, including the money broker's service charges, currently run from 4 1/4 to 5 1/4 per cent. They are usually higher than returns on prime commercial paper and well ahead of yields on the treasury's three-month bills.

CONTACTS BORROWERS

The money broker also acts for the bank in contacting the borrower should the market price of the security drop and threaten the cash margin required. The solution: Sell, or put up more security or cash.

The brokers adhere to Federal Reserve margin rules, currently requiring 70 per cent cash on common stocks.

Only a small part of the money broker's business as such is in common stocks. D. H. Blair puts this currently at 5 per cent of its total mortgage brokerage transactions.

Usually the top volume is in U. S. government securities, on which many banks will lend up to 95 per cent. Loans on top convertible debentures (like corporate bonds except that they can be exchanged for common stock) can run as high as 85 per cent.
Of late, Garvin-Bantel says,

Arrest Widow In Murder Of Woman

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Police are jailing an 18-year-old widow today in the robbery-slaying of an elderly woman Friday in a Philadelphia rooming house.
Mrs. Evelyn Labarr was arrested by Monroe County sheriff's deputies Sunday night in nearby East Rochester on a warrant issued by Philadelphia police.
The victim, Mrs. Sarah Maxin, 82, was found dead of a ruptured liver caused by a punch or kick, investigators said. Missing was about $100 the woman kept in a cloth sack tied around her neck.
The elderly woman ran the rooming house where Mrs. Labarr lived.
Two unidentified companions of Mrs. Labarr from Philadelphia were held as runaways, police said, but were not involved in the slaying. Mrs. Labarr's husband was from East Rochester but it was not known why she came here, police said.
She was held in Monroe County jail pending action by Philadelphia police.

LINCOLN SHOW ON SATURDAY WAS 'SHOCKER'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Dale Wasserman's "The Lincoln Murder Case" presented Saturday night on CBS was a meticulously constructed, carefully documented and provocative television program. In its subject matter, it was a shocker.

The difficult job of selecting and presenting in dramatic form some of the mass of evidence pointing to a treasonable conspiracy in Lincoln's Cabinet was skillfully knitted into a gripping whole. Wasserman handled it by having Alexander Scourby, as a sort of prosecutor, narrate and illustrate the assassination plot by word, maps and physical evidence. Then the key moments in the plot and its aftermath were dramatized.

GRAND TELEVISION

The windup, of course, had to be weak. After Wasserman had made his case and his point—that many people besides John Wilkes Booth knew about the plot to kill Lincoln—there could be no climax because the author believes somebody got away with murder. All he could do to end the show was to point out "the final irony: Only the man they killed lives on."

It was a stimulating and absorbing program and grand television. "Maverick," that vintage Western that took a lighthearted view of the Old West, seems nowadays to have lost much of its bounce and all of its impertinence.

Sunday night's episode, for instance, was cut strictly along familiar horse opera lines—a plot to get rid of the rich heiress and grab the money—and was played with completely straight faces. In addition to a double dose of gunplay, the usual climax battle was staged on the edge of a precipice, in what Hollywood fondly imagines looks like snow. It's too bad its standards have slipped, because it was a refreshing show for a long time.

There was a TV first Sunday night: Lucille Ball, in a scene from her Broadway show, "Wildcat," on the Ed Sullivan Show, sang on key for the first time in the memory of "I Love Lucy" fans. She may not be as Maria Callas, but it was a fast, bright number.

MANEUVER SPY ROCKETS WHEN IN SKY ORBIT

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—An experiment high in space has proved that American spy satellites will be able to maneuver in orbit—a major step ahead in their own defense.
A 2,100-pound Discoverer XXI satellite proved this Saturday by restarting its engine on radio command from earth.
Specialists see high significance in the development.
No longer will an orbiting satellite be an easy target for enemy ballistic missiles. It will, the Discoverer test indicates, be able to speed up, slow down or suddenly dart in a different direction.
WAY STATION
Or it can change the shape, altitude or angle of its orbit around the earth. The way is paved, experts say, for a meeting of several satellites in orbit to form a way station for travel among the planets.

The Air Force launched Discoverer XXI at 2:58 p.m. Saturday, only 27 hours after Discoverer XX went into orbit with a 300-pound capsule. It will be orbited an unprecedented four days before ejection and a recovery attempt.
A medium-range Thor ballistic missile, workhorse of the two-year-old Discoverer series, boosted No. XXI from the ground.
The engine of the second stage, an Agena B, spurted for 2 1/2 minutes to kick the 25-foot-long, 5-foot-thick satellite into orbit. This engine cut off, then restarted during the first pass around the earth's poles.

ENGINEERS STRIKE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A strike of flight engineers against major airlines disrupted service at International airport today.

Flights using two-engines planes were not affected, but lines like Eastern Air Lines, which use four-engine craft on 27 of its 38 flights out of Philadelphia, were having trouble.

Trans World Airlines and American Airlines were forced to cancel some flights.

The state of Georgia was named for King George II of England.

COMEDY ABOUT RUSSIA OPENS ON BROADWAY

By WILLIAM GLOVER
NEW YORK (AP)—Broadway is having its own Russian problem this season.

The Muscovite scene was explored for comic effect recently in "Julia, Jake and Uncle Joe." Undismayed by that setback, another team of laugh seekers now tries flipping back the pages of history for humor in "Once There Was a Russian."

This item, which trundled onto the Music Box stage Saturday night, is better than its predecessor, but still creates no Volga torrent of mirth.

WITTY PARALLELS

Sam Spewack, veteran of many a White Way frolic, pens a parable of how John Paul Jones was galled by Catherine the Great and her sometimes minister, Prince Potemkin, in 1787 battling with Turkey.

More Than $400,000 Found In Spinster's Hat Boxes

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP)—A spinster school teacher has left a fortune she kept hidden in hat boxes to three daughters of an old friend.

Police entered the six-room Wilmington apartment of the teacher, Isabelle Tuchton, 76, last Monday after friends reported they had not seen her for some time. She was dead on her bed.

The fortune is reportedly between $400,000 and $500,000. Stuffed in old hat boxes was $40,314 in cash, blue chip stocks, uncashed dividend checks, keys to safe deposit boxes, and a will.

The will, which was filed for probate here Friday, leaves the fortune to Mary Louise Hughes of Kenton, Mrs. Clair Conly of Wilmington and Mrs. Maurice Arnold of Kennett Square, Pa. The will was written in 1928.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hughes of Kenton, mother of the three, was a friend and classmate of Miss Tuchton.

Miss Tuchton inherited most of the money from her father, a barrel manufacturer, and her brother and sister.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

STIEGEL'S GRAVE AT BOILING SPRINGS

The concluding evidence on just where Henry William Stiegel, who was noted for the beautiful flint glass manufactured at his Manheim plants, is buried is presented at this time.

The Carlisle Furnace estate (now Boiling Springs, Cumberland County, Pennsylvania) had a burial ground for members of the Ege family and another for the slaves who belonged to them. These two plots would seem to account for all concerned — but who is buried in the well-marked grave located on the front lawn or terrace of the Mansion House? There is only one answer to such a question. At the time this grave was dug it was intended as a temporary burial place and the occupant was to be moved to another site as soon as possible. Otherwise burial would have been made in the plot already set aside as a family burial ground.

There is every reason to believe that Stiegel was at the home of Michael Ege at the time of his death. The end came suddenly at a time when he had completed his preparations for the return trip to Charming Forge. He (Stiegel) was just about to take his leave of Catharine Ege, his sister-in-law, and other members of the family when — almost before they realized what was happening — Stiegel was dead — apparently of a heart attack. Death came so quickly there was not time to remove the cloak and high leather boots that he had put on for the long, cold journey. In the excitement that followed the sudden attack those who cared for him gave no thought to their removal.

The next question to be considered by the Ege family was where to bury Stiegel. The weather effectively blocked the removal of the body — at least at the time. Both Catharine and Michael Ege knew that Stiegel desired to be buried at Charming Forge. Perhaps Michael Ege wished to disregard this but his mother was adamant. So long as she lived and had some voice in the matter every effort would be made to carry out Stiegel's wishes.

After giving the matter some thought it was decided to prepare a temporary grave on the terrace not far from the lake. Later, when the weather moderated, the body would be taken to Charming Forge and there given permanent burial. With a great deal of difficulty a grave of sufficient depth was dug and Stiegel's body, still clothed for his journey and wrapped in blankets, was lowered into it.

Thus Stiegel, who during his comparatively short life had climbed to the heights and fallen into the depths, reached the end of his quest. His journey was ended. Never again would he taste the bitter bread of charity.

The weeks and months passed. Spring, summer, autumn, then the cold and snow of another winter and still no attempt was made to move Stiegel's body to Charming Forge. The reason for this delay is now known but it must have been a good one. Catharine Ege would not have put off with an excuse she knew to be mere subterfuge. It is quite possible that she herself was ill and unable to push the project.

On November 6, 1786, Catharine Ege died and was buried in the plot of ground which had long since been set aside for a family graveyard. After her death there was no one to whom Stiegel's desire, to be buried at Charming Forge meant anything except so many words. A mere whim and an expensive one at that! The grave on the terrace became a permanent part of the landscape. At the furnace a small iron marker was cast and placed at the head of the grave, while a fieldstone was driven deep into the ground at the foot. Less than a hundred years later, however, the markers at the grave had entirely disappeared from sight, covered by earth and grass and the exact location of Stiegel's grave was no longer known.

With the passing of the years the Ege estates and fortune melted away. The last of the family to live in the Mansion House at Boiling Springs was Peter Ege, a brilliant but eccentric man. It was this Peter Ege, however, who made the only clear, concise statement to come from the Ege family concerning Stiegel's burial place. It happened in this way—

Sometime, before 1876, while Peter Ege still occupied the Mansion House, he hired laborers to grade the front lawn of the estate down to the lakeside. One day, while this work was in progress, one of the workmen ran to the house, in great excitement, to tell Mr. Ege that in the course of their labors they had uncovered the skeleton of a man, wearing the remains of what had once been high leather boots. Peter Ege went at once to the open grave and ordered the workmen to close it immediately. He remained until all was in order once more. He must have felt that this rather unusual discovery required some explanation for he said that the body was that of "Henry William Stiegel, a relative by marriage."

At that time Stiegel, his name or story, meant absolutely nothing to anyone. He was, as yet, unknown to fame and few had ever heard of him. There was no conceivable reason for Peter Ege to tell anything but the absolute truth. He did not expect his statement to cause a sensation — and it did not. But it does prove that the location of Stiegel's grave was a matter of common knowledge in the Ege family.

Fortunately one of the witnesses present on the occasion of the accidental discovery of Henry William Stiegel's grave was so impressed that he remembered the exact circumstances, all that was said and done. Many years later he repeated the story and in a sworn statement gave a clear and concise account of the unexpected discovery of a grave some 70 years before.

This is proof positive of the location of the grave of Henry William Stiegel — who was sometimes called "Baron" Stiegel by his less affluent neighbors.

By request a list of the marked graves in the Ege family burial grounds, both at Boiling Springs and Pine Grove, will be included Pennsylvania welcomes 1961 prepared for its greatest vacation and travel year in history.

The Pennsylvania Department of Commerce, in a recent survey to determine why tourists visit Pennsylvania, found a great many things attract people to the land of the forested mountains, redeveloped cities, historic rivers and immortal shrines. Travelers come from all 50 states and from all over the free world.

They come to see Independence Hall — the birthplace of America and freedom — and the Liberty Bell. They come to see Gettysburg, site of the Civil War North-South battle, the most fierce ever fought on American soil.

They come to see the Pennsylvania Dutch "plain people" who live and dress as they did some 300 years ago. They are fascinated by the contentment and humility of the Amish and Mennonite, their respective grey and black horse-drawn buggies, and the genuine innocence of their handsome children.

They linger at Valley Forge, site of General Washington's encampment during the bitter winter of 1777-78, attracted by the solemnity of history and the beauty of the countryside, especially appealing when dogwood is in bloom.

They have fun in the Pocos, at Presque Isle recreation area near Erie, and throughout the endless forested mountains in between. They relax at more than 70 state parks, each with its own special attraction.

They come to see the new skylines, constantly changing, of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, the result of enormous redevelopment projects. They follow the valleys of the rivers Allegheny, Clarion, Juniata, Schuylkill, Delaware and Susquehanna.

One cannot count Pennsylvania's attractions (there are too many) but it is a politicians promise come true — it has something for everyone.

Gov. Andrew W. Curtin was one of the first, if not the first, chief executive of a great state to pledge wholehearted support of Abraham Lincoln when he was elected President of the United States. In reporting on Curtin's inauguration, The (Gettysburg) Compiler said:

"The inauguration of Andrew G. Curtin, as governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, took place at the State Capitol on Tuesday last. There were 13 military companies present, the whole under the command of Gen. W. H. Keim. The crowd in attendance was not so large as usual. — The new governor delivered his inaugural, the following abstract of which we find in the telegraphic columns of the city papers: "Referring to political troubles, he pledges himself to stand between the Constitution and the encroachments instigated by hatred or ambition, fanaticism or folly. He says the election of President Lincoln is made the pretext of disturbing the country by wresting from the federal government the powers which the people conferred on it when the constitution was adopted."

"There was nothing in the life or acts of the President-elect to warrant the excitement. Blinded judgment on the part of the people was now precipitating them into revolution. He says: "I have already taken occasion to say publicly, and I now repeat, that if we have any laws upon our statute books which infringe upon the rights of the people of any of the states, or contravene any law of the federal government, or obstruct its execution, they ought to be repealed. We ought not to hesitate to exhibit to other states that may have enacted laws interfering with the rights, or obstructive of

GIRL KILLED CROSSING ROAD

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A truck killed a 17-year-old girl Friday night as she crossed a highway with a girl friend, headed for a high school basketball game.

Joyce Seitz of Natrona Heights was struck while crossing Freeport Road in front of Har-Brack High School in nearby Harrison Twp.

She was dead on arrival at Allegheny Valley Hospital in Tarentum.

Miss Seitz and Carol Semitzer, 18, of Natrona, were walking to the high school to see the Har-Brack and Vandergrift game

Pennsylvania will give the government a united, honest and truthful support to this end. Her people mean to preserve the integrity of the Union at all hazards."

Miss Smeltzer escaped injury but suffered shock.

The Allegheny County coroner's office identified the driver as Donald L. Miller, 30, of New Kensington R. 1. The coroner's office said Miller drove on to Freeport in his tractor-trailer, unaware that the Seitz girl had been struck. Miller drove to the hospital after learning of the fatality, the coroner's office said.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — An 11-year-old boy wanted to stay home from school. He wasn't sick, Robert Posey told his mother—he just didn't want to go.

However, he started for school Thursday on his bicycle. Two blocks from home an automobile killed him.

ASTON ROWANT, England (AP)—Police found a piano abandoned on the main highway near this Oxfordshire village today. "We have only one clue as to how it got there," said a police spokesman. "It is all stained with beer."

NAB FORMER CHORUS GIRL IN MYSTERY MURDER CASE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Officials, fearing further gangland repercussions, said they would oppose today any efforts to free the attractive woman owner of a night club who is being held in connection with a murder.

U. S. Commissioner Edward W. Furia said he was considering increasing the $25,000 bail of Mrs. Lillian Reis, a tall, striking 31-year-old brunette divorcee who owns the popular Celebrity Room.

Meanwhile, a murder warrant was out for John Berkery, 30. And officials said they would try again to extradite John J. Dillon, 25, from a San Diego, Calif., prison where he is serving time for burglary and violation of probation. They failed to extradite him previously.

SEE LINK WITH FIRE

In a new development, officials believe there may have been some connection between a fire in Atlantic City, N. J., and the murder.

Mrs. Reis, a former chorus girl who police say was the brains behind an alleged $478,000 burglary in Pottsville, Pa., and bought the night club with her cut, was jailed Saturday night after being charged with fleeing New Jersey to avoid prosecution for murder.

Shortly before her arrest authorities announced they had in custody a man, whom they did not identify, who had witnessed the murder last August of Vincent J. Blaney, allegedly a co-conspirator in the Pottsville robbery. Police all along have maintained that Blaney was killed to keep him from talking about the burglary.

WITNESSED KILLING

Morgan Thomas, an assistant Atlantic County, N. J., prosecutor said the bizarre case had been broken by the unidentified man, arrested last fall in another matter, who told authorities that he, Mrs. Reis and several others had watched while Blaney was marched to his death.

According to authorities, the informant said Berkery and Dillon marched Blaney into a deserted boat yard not far from Atlantic City at 2 a.m. the morning of Aug. 3. The informant said they kneed Blaney, slugged him, shot him and took his body to sea in a small boat. He said Mrs. Reis laughed as the two men dragged Blaney's body from behind the boat where he had been shot to death.

NEEDS PROTECTION

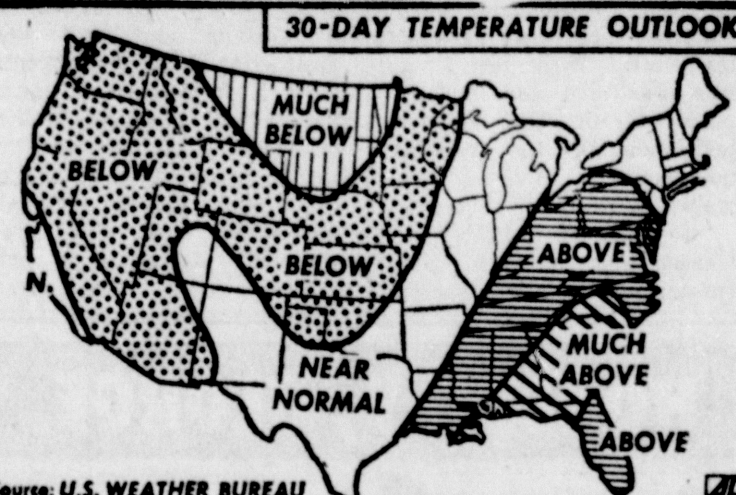

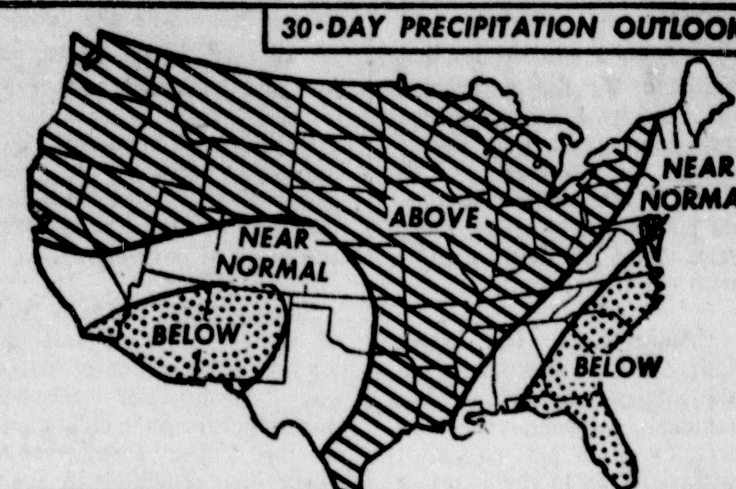

Furia said he was considering increasing Mrs. Reis' bail in order to "keep her in protective custody... I think it is my duty to protect her."

New Jersey authorities have sought to have her bail set at $50,000.

Mrs. Reis' lawyer, Herman Bloom, said her father would come from his New York home today to try to arrange for her release on $25,000 bail.

President Holds Church Pew For Girl

WASHINGTON (AP) — It isn't every girl that has the President hold a seat for her.

That happened Sunday when President and Mrs. Kennedy attended Mass at Holy Trinity church in Georgetown.

A girl about 11, wearing a red hat and red coat, was seated in front of the Kennedys. During the Mass, she got up, whispered to the President's ear and left. She returned in a few minutes.

Asked afterward what she the girl said she asked him to save her place. Her name was not obtained by reporters.

Crops are grown on only 3 percent of Algeria's 920,000 square miles, and only one-sixth of the land will support livestock. But the Sahara Desert contains oil, iron, diamonds, nickel and copper.

Will Observe Call To Arms April 16

HARRISBURG (AP) — Descendants of the first Pennsylvania militiamen to respond to President Lincoln's call for volunteers in the Civil War are planning a special commemorative event here.

An organization known as the Pennsylvania First Defenders Association has fixed April 16 for a parade and ceremony to mark the centennial of that call to arms after the attack on Fort Sumter.

The association held a weekend meeting to make plans for the anniversary program. It announced plans to ask former President Dwight D. Eisenhower to be the event's main speaker.

The roar of Victoria Falls on Africa's Zambezi River can be heard 20 miles. Its great plume of water vapor is visible for seven miles.

HOPE FOR NEW WATER PROJECT IN STATE SOON

By RICHARD L. GRAVES
HARRISBURG (AP)—State conservationists are hopeful the current Congress will approve establishment of a long-sought water research center in Pennsylvania.

Efforts last year failed to get approval of the center recommended in a special 1959 U. S. Senate study.

Pennsylvania has been backed by 11 other northeastern states the site for a hydrology research agency. The northeastern region has complained for years that there is no federal agency to work on the special water problems of the heavily populated area, though there are research units in a number of other parts of the nation.

RECOGNIZED PROBLEMS

There is no water research center east of the Mississippi River. In the past, the U. S. Agriculture Department and Congress worked on the assumption that water problems existed only in the dry western states.

Now they have recognized that water problems reach into all phases of the economy and there is wider legislative support for water research.

State supporters of the plan are looking into the possibilities of having the water research unit linked to area redevelopment legislation. Water is a major resource in industrial development.

GROWING COMPETITION

However, Pennsylvania and the other northeastern states have been facing a growing competition between industry, population and agriculture for available supplies.

Though the state presently has adequate supplies of water, the threat of a limited resources is very real. Already there have been local instances of short-term shortages.

Other redevelopment needs for water research would include flood control, recreation, and, of course, agriculture.

From the farm standpoint, water research is inseparably linked with soil conservation and is sorely needed, especially since Pennsylvania producers are turning to irrigation to augment their activity and take some of the risk out of their business.

MADE 'N 1959

The recommendation that Pennsylvania be the site of the research agency was made in Senate Document 50 of the 1959 session. The commonwealth was selected because it has terrain typical of the northeast.

Also, Pennsylvania has long been a leader in soil and water conservation. Some 90 per cent of the state is covered by some type of soil or water conservation program.

WILL TESTIFY UNDER OATH TO DENY CHARGES

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spruille Braden has challenged testimony by a former U.S. diplomat that Braden was fired as ambassador to Argentina by former President Harry S. Truman after being accused of helping Latin-American Communists.

Braden, from his home in New York, offered to appear before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, where William D. Pawley testified in closed sessions last September, to deny the charges under oath.

"I would be glad to have the results of the combined testimony of Pawley and myself forwarded to the Department of Justice if, in the judgment of the Senate, such disposition is warranted," Braden said.

"DID GOOD JOB"

Pawley's testimony was released Sunday.

In Bermuda, where he is on vacation, Truman's only comment was "Spruille Braden did a good job."

Braden said instead of being fired, he had been praised by Truman and awarded the Medal

Emmitsburg

EMMITSBURG — The Emmitsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce will present an award to the "outstanding young men" of the Emmitsburg area at a Businessmen's Night to be held March 23 at 6:30 p.m. It is open to the public.

The PTA of Emmitsburg High School will meet in the school cafeteria Tuesday evening. A box lunch social will follow the business meeting. All women members are requested to bring a box lunch which will be purchased by the men. The program will include a panel discussion on report cards and homework.

The alumni of St. Joseph's High School will sponsor a St. Patrick's Day dance in the VFW annex March 17. Admission will be $2 per couple or $1.25 stag. Music will be furnished by the Debonaires.

Harry Ashbaugh, Hyattsville, recently visited his mother, Mrs. George Ashbaugh, and family. Sgt. William Timmerman, Philadelphia, and Henry Timmerman, Gettysburg Rd., twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Fred P. Timmerman, observed their birthday anniversaries on Sunday.

of Freedom, the highest U.S. civilian decoration.

Pawley, Miami businessman and former ambassador to Peru and Brazil, said he received an intelligence memorandum prepared by an Army undercover agent, took it to then Atty. Gen. Tom Clark and was summoned next day to the White House to show it to Truman.

ONE TRUE STATEMENT

At that time in 1947, Pawley was assistant secretary of state for American republic affairs.

In his testimony, Pawley pictured Braden not as a Communist but as a very ambitious man who "became involved in a program which appeared to be helpful to the Communist party in Latin America."

He said that later Braden blocked his appointment to replace Braden as Argentine ambassador and he was sent instead to Brazil.

NOTICES

Card of Thanks

ECKENRODE: May I take this means of thanking everyone who assisted in any way in our emergency last Saturday.

To the Civil Defense, who provided helicopter service; To my stepbrother, Chester Sartwell;

To the Maryland State Police for their efforts; To Edgar Emrich, who spent hours trying to get help for us; To Robert Sayler for organizing a crew to do our chores and seeing that we got fuel and food.

To Francis and Jimmy Hobbs, who so kindly used bulldozers to clean our road after the Frederick County officials (except Mr. Emrich) flatly refused to help us in any way;

To Dr. Wm. Carr, who waited to care for our sick animals (our loss would have been much greater were it not for so many who cared);

To Grant Long and Roy Sanders, who are still doing our chores; To Mollie Buchanan, Charles Eyer and all others;

My most sincere and grateful "thanks." May God bless each participant.

MRS. ALTA R. ECKENRODE
